

LEGION PUSHES PLANS FOR FALL FETE ON OCT. 8-9

Merchants Cooperate In Program For Annual Festival

AMATEUR PROGRAM
WILL BE FEATURE

Rules for Contestants Are Outlined By Committee

Officers and members of Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, are pushing preparations for their annual Fall Festival, now less than a month away.

The celebration, which the merchants join in sponsoring, will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 8 and 9.

Chairmen Are Busy
Joint chairmen for the festival this year are Ray Pearce and Fred Ludington, assisted by Commander H. E. Zepernick, Fred S. Smith is in charge of concessions.

Eddie Howell, aided by Russell Jones and John C. Litty, today completed arrangements for an amateur show to be staged in connection with the two-day event.

Howell, chairman, announced that the amateur show contestants must be at least 12 years of age and that all acts must be musical. Although placing a minimum age limit, the amateur show officials said there is no maximum age limit. Even "grandpa" may perform, if he likes.

In the ensemble acts the Legion officials ask that there be not more than four in one group. As in national amateur show contests, an applause meter will register the popularity of each individual or group. Judging will be done in this manner.

Blanks For Contestants

Application blanks for contestants are now available at either the Columbiana County Motor club office on E. State st., or the Salem Letter Shop, S. Broadway.

Eliminations will be held on Friday night, Oct. 8, but even the unsuccessful will receive prizes. Four winning acts will be picked in the finals on Saturday night. The winning act will receive a $10 cash award, while second, third and fourth prizes will be $5, $3 and $2 respectively.

The Legion officials urge applicants to register as soon as possible for the contest.

Willow Grove Has Spelling Contest

A "spelling bee" in which Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crawford were winners, was a feature of the program enjoyed last night by Willow Grove grangers at their meeting.

Juvenile grange entertained with a song and Perry Oesch with harmonica solos.

Sept. 30 has been designated as Booster night for all granges of the county. Willow Grove grange will observe the occasion with a program and open meeting at the hall at Oct. 1.

On Oct. 15 the meeting will be in charge of grange members whose birthdays are in April, May and June. All those in that group are asked to attend a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Ralph Crawford, Newgarden rd., to arrange a program for the grange session.

Grand Jury Opens Sessions Monday

LISBON, Sept. 18—A total of 43 transcripts had been filed today as the Columbiana grand jury prepared to open its September session here Monday morning.

The number of cases is 11 more than that which came before the last grand jury. Eleven new transcripts were filed during the past week.

There Are No Non-Combatants in War

Too young to walk, unable to talk, this wounded Chinese baby is shown in the wreckage of Shanghai's South Station after the Japanese naval batteries and air squadrons reduced the railroad terminal to smoking, smouldering ruins. There are no non-combatants in China. This remarkable picture poignantly illustrates the fate which faces China's women and children in the undeclared Sino-Japanese conflict. FRIENDS HONOR REV. C. F. BAILEY

Pastor Beginning Tenth Year In Pulpit of Local Church

Rev. C. F. Bailey, who is beginning his tenth year as pastor of the First Friends church, and his family, were honored at a fellowship meeting Friday evening at the church. As a token of esteem they were presented a beautiful floor lamp, with Rev. H. P. Litty making the presentation speech.

Walter, Lois and Paul Bailey will leave early next week for Wilmore, Ky., where they have enrolled in Asbury college.

Rev. Harlan Mosher, pastor of the East Goshen Friends church, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Miss Pearl Walker, who announced the program.

In his inspirational remarks, Rev. Mosher admonished the church "to go on unto perfection."

Reviews Church History
Miss Mary Herbert, teacher of the Steady Gleaners class, reviewed the past history of the church, and Henry Wolfgang, superintendent of the Bible school, told of activities of the church during Rev. Bailey's pastorate. Robert Kimes represented the Christian Endeavor society and expressed appreciation to Rev. Bailey for his work here.

The future church was represented by Delores Stratton, who sang a solo, and Paul Ryser.

Other numbers on the program were: Bible reading, Mrs. Ward Allen, chairman of the ministry and oversight body; prayer, R. C. Eckstein; trumpet duet, Paul Bailey and Robert Harshman, with Miss Dorothea Allen at the piano; selection by the men's quartet, composed of Oscar McCommon, W. L. Yingling, Charles Caden and Homer Ellyson, with Mrs. Ellyson as accompanist; instrumental number, Bruce Riley and Robert Cline; piano solo, Harold Shisler; benediction, Herman Stratton.

Clerk McLaughlin Addresses Saxons

Charles McLaughlin of Wells-ville, clerk in the office of the county commissioners, addressed the Salem Saxons Juniors at a meeting here Thursday evening. His topic was "Good Government."

Plans were made to send a golf team to Canton to compete in a Saxons golf tournament there on Sept. 26. Arthur Meiter, Dorothy Menning and Eleanor Weber were accepted as new members.

The organization plans a "Harvest Moon" dance Oct. 8 at the club rooms and a Halloween dance Oct. 30 at the rooms. The latter event will be open to the public.

Child Badly Hurt, Probe Is Started

MANSFIELD, Sept. 18.—Fractures of both arms and 11 ribs on a four-month-old child stirred Richmond county authorities today to investigate the cause of the injuries.

Neither the 19-year-old mother nor the 17-year-old father of the baby shed any light on the case. Sheriff E. P. Long said a physician, who notified authorities yesterday when the child was brought to him, said the fractures were several weeks old. Names were withheld.

HIGH STUDENTS GET TO WORK

Prepare, However, For Extra Curricular Activities Ahead

Although their heads are buried deep in text books these days, the students of Salem High school are preparing for extra curricular activities which go to make the school days more enjoyable.

The pupils already have enrolled 42 per cent strong in the Salem High School association, an organization which allows the students to participate in all the varied high school activities at reduced rates.

Junior Room Leads
The association drive opened Wednesday and today the pupils room 200 is leading with 30 pupils enrolled. Running a close second is Senior room 208 with 26 members.

Three hundred eighty-nine members have been enrolled to date and the goal has been set at 700. Principal Harold M. Williams said.

A silver loving cup, won for the past two years by room 209, of Chester M. Brautigan is teacher.

State Releases Funds To Schools

The state department of education has mailed checks totalling $11,297,377 to county, city and exempted village school districts throughout the state.

Counties will receive $4,685,251; exempted villages $675,175, and cities $5,936,951.

All notes issued by the school districts on authority of the department of education will be paid by this cash distribution except the $12,000,000 authorization made within the past few weeks.

Columbiana county will receive $53,609 while Salem public school district will get $23,069.

To Alliance went a $48,414 disbursement; Sebring, $11,250; Lisbon, $13,382; East Liverpool, $52,438; East Palestine, $14,790; Canton, $167,765.

Watkins, Lisbon, six firsts; six seconds; Oxford and Hampshire downs, C. M. Hartzell, one first; Mrs. Elmer Levan, north Lima, one first.

Trees Dedicated At Scout Reserve

LISBON, Sept. 18.—Former State Senator C. A. White of Lisbon spoke yesterday at the ceremony marking the dedication of 150 trees planted by CCC boys at the McKinley Scout reservation near here.

The trees are planted in what is now known as "Constitution Grove."

Also officiating at the dedication was Albert Peck, CCC camp superintendent, and Lieut. H. H. Seay of the CCC.

Constitution Day themes Based Largely On Court Battle

(By Associated Press)
Pleas to keep a dictatorship from supplanting the American democracy which has endured for 150 years echoed today from the oratory of Constitution day.

They sprang from the controversy over President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the federal judiciary, to obtain what he called last night a layman's interpretation of the Constitution rather than a legalistic concept.

Whether the speakers were aligned with Mr. Roosevelt or were opposed to him, they declared that powerful forces were at work to make themselves the nation's masters.

Hits One-Man Rule

Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), spearhead of the successful senate battle against the President on the court issue, told a Chicago audience the United States needs to be on guard against "one man" government.

"We should not make our government subservient to one man or get up a totalitarian state because our politicians have been unable to solve the problems of overproduction, underconsumption or unemployment," he said.

As long as the independence of the judicial, executive and legislative branches of government is preserved, Wheeler said, there is no danger of a dictatorship. But, he added:

"The slightest inroad on our political and personal liberties cannot be permitted. Our liberties have been achieved with too great sacrifice to be frittered away by bountiful promises of economic security now."

An administration spokesman, Secretary Ickes, voiced the charge that the Supreme Court has set itself up as "a super legislature."

Raps Chief Justice

Ickes, speaking at Pittsburgh, said Chief Justice Hughes was active in "plotting to checkmate" the President's court bill. He criticized anti-administration newspapers and said:

"In the eyes of certain persons who have organized political machine gun nests in all parts of the country, it was a heinous crime for the President to propose a long overdue reform of the judiciary."

Senator Clark (D., Mo.) warned at New York against any fundamental change in the Constitution as conceived on Democratic principles.

Secretary Wallace said in a Washington address that "there can easily be serious trouble" if a Supreme Court invalidated an act of congress unless the court is animated by a "sincere desire" to follow constitutional precepts.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), however, said in Detroit "you can never make a tyrant out of the Supreme Court."

Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said:

"I was never more serious in my life than when I say that civilization is tottering on the brink. We may go as Greece went, as Rome went, as Germany went."

Legion Members Off to Gotham for National Meeting

When Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, meets Monday night to nominate officers for the new year, several of its members and their wives will be representing the post at the National Legion convention in New York City.

Those from Salem who will make the trip include Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. King, John H. Burns, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miller, Mrs. W. J. See-man and Mrs. Ray Cuthbert.

The Wilsons and the Kings were to leave today by motor for New York, while the remainder of the party will board a chartered train, "Ohio Special," at the Pennsylvania depot this evening. They will stop at Washington, D. C., en route.

The national convention of the Legion opens Sunday and will continue through Sept. 25.

Nomination of officers at the meeting of the local post Monday night will be followed by election of officers at another meeting Oct. 4.

An entertainment and "feed" are planned for next Monday's meeting. It was announced by Commander H. E. Zepernick.

Expectant Mother In Hospital; Driver Is Arrested

A collision of two automobiles on Route 14, five miles northwest of Salem at 2:10 p. m. Friday sent one woman to the hospital and resulted in the arrest of one motorist.

Mrs. Phyllis Madaffer of Detroit, an expectant mother, was placed in the Central Clinic for observation and for treatment of facial lacerations after the car in which she was riding with her husband, Joseph, was struck by a machine operated by Mrs. Pearl E. Green, of R. D. 1, Salem.

Mrs. Green, whom State Patrolman R. I. Governor arrested on a charge of reckless driving, attempted to turn left into a side road while Madaffer was passing her car. The Detroit couple landed in a ditch.

Arraigned in Mayor Robert Manchester's court at Canfield last night, Mrs. Green was fined $10 and costs.

4-H Club Members Back from Columbus

LISBON, Sept. 18.—Five 4-H club members from Columbiana county returned Friday from Columbus following a five-day stay at the 4-H club conference in Columbus this week.

The quintet were selected by John Strausbaugh, in charge of club work in the county, because of their length of service in organization work.

They are Alfred Drasdo, a member of the Fairfield Boosters; Lee Vincent, Just-Rite club; Zola Slutz and Florence Sidwell, members of the Butler Sew Merry club, and Perla Noling, Hanover township. Wide Awake, Miss Slutz and Miss Sidwell have just completed their tenth year of 4-H club activities.

The members left last Sunday and were returned to their homes Friday by Mr. Strausbaugh.

Country Club Plans Trapshoot Sunday

More than 50 shooters are expected to compete in the Salem Country club's second big trap and skeet shoot of the year at the club grounds tomorrow.

One skeet and two trap events are scheduled for the shoot, which will get under way at 10 a. m. as a non-registered affair.

The skeet shoot will be a 50-target event. One trap shoot will be a 100-target, 16-yard event, while the other will be a 50-target handicap contest.

Prizes will be awarded to winners in all events. The trap shoots will be Lewis class in which all shooters have an equal chance to win a prize, regardless of their excellence at marksmanship.

Sevakeen Concludes Season Wednesday

Sevakeen Country club will close a very successful season with a benefit bridge party Wednesday evening, Sept. 29, given by the Women's auxiliary.

The annual meeting for election of directors and to hear reports is arranged for Friday evening, Oct. 15. This meeting will be preceded by a casserole supper.

WILL CONTINUE "REFORM" FIGHT

Speaks In Washington at Constitution Day
Observance

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt's outspoken demand for an interpretation of the Constitution sufficiently broad to make democracy "work" turned political attention today to his announcement of a western tour beginning next week.

Within an hour, he gave emphatic notice last night of a continuing fight for the objectives sought in his court reorganization program and announced a trip through Montana, Wyoming and other states represented by some of the leading foes of his judiciary proposal.

A huge crowd, estimated at more than 50,000 persons, and a nationwide radio audience heard the President's outdoor address commemorating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution.

Cool Enough For Topcoat
The evening was so cool that Mr. Roosevelt wore a topcoat as he stood in the moonlight on the Washington monument grounds.

In his speech, interrupted more frequently by responsive laughter than by applause, the President said that to avoid dictatorship the nation must "meet the insistence of the great mass of our people that economic and social security and the standards of American living be raised."

"I believe," he added, "that these things can be done under the Constitution, without the surrender of a single one of the civil and religious liberties it was intended to safeguard."

"And I am determined that under the constitution those things shall be done."

Only in that way, he said, can America "disparate the illusion that the necessary price of efficiency is dictatorship." He added:

"That is why I have been saying for months that there is a

FOUR SEBRING PLAYERS HURT

Injured In Auto Collision; Game With Newell Is Called Off

One Salem and four Sebring scholastic football players figured in two district traffic accidents last night.

The mishaps occurred within 15 minutes of each other and were less than four miles apart on Johnson's rd., which intersects the Salem-Alliance rd., about three miles west of Westville.

The Salem gridders, Leonard Bonnell, 18, of 1493 Elmwood ave., a tackle on Salem High school's varsity squad, escaped injury when the car he was driving collided with another driven by Mrs. Verna Johnson, 30, of Sebring, but the Sebring football players all suffered injuries in the accident in which they were involved.

Wade Rittenhouse, 15, was the most seriously injured of the Sebring youths. He suffered severe lacerations and a double fracture of his right wrist. Bob Faulkner, 16; Bob Bennett, 16, and Bob Cardinal, 15, who were passengers in the car driven by Rittenhouse, all received bad lacerations and bruises.

Rittenhouse and Faulkner are in Alliance City hospital today, the latter suffering from loss of blood. Bennett and Cardinal were released from the hospital after treatment.

As a result of the accident involving the Sebring youths, a football game between Sebring and Newell, W. Va., High schools, scheduled for today at Sebring, has been cancelled. All of the Sebring

LAYMAN'S BALANCED BUDGET

In stories about the national budget there appears over and over again this phrase—a layman's balanced budget.

On Thursday, United Press quoted fiscal officials in Washington as saying that a "layman's balanced budget is impossible this year."

Now a layman, broadly defined, is one of the people. A layman in financial matters, therefore, is a person who doesn't know much about the ins and outs of money matters.

His knowledge is rudimentary. He knows that two and two make four. He knows that if he spends two dollars out of his pocket and gets credit for two more dollars he has spent four dollars and is two dollars in debt.

He knows he will have to pay the debt sometime and that if the debt gets too big for him to handle he will be in trouble. He has learned from experience that the best way to keep out of trouble is to spend no more than he can earn. These things are planted firmly in his mind.

So when he is told that a layman's balanced budget is impossible this year he doesn't exactly feel surprised, because he knows the government has been spending more than it earned ever since the beginning of the depression and already is signed up for another program of increased spending this year.

He wonders, therefore, what other kinds of balanced budgets there are besides the layman's kind.
If there's an easier way, he wants to know the secret.

A SHADE TOO POLITE

Pending arrangements for the homecoming of former Sen. Hugo L. Black in such a way that he may swap a Ku Klux Klan sheet for a black robe, a last word about senatorial courtesy is in order.

Senatorial courtesy is the thing which makes it ungentlemanly for one senator to snoop into the affairs of another senator for the purpose of embarrassing him. It is the thing which makes it impossible for a senator to do anything wrong in the eyes of other senators.

Senatorial courtesy almost got the boot when Mr.
Black was appointed to the supreme court, but finally it prevailed and the appointment was confirmed.
It is assumed that's one reason why Mr. Black was chosen; because it would be hard for his fellow senators to refuse to treat him courteously when his qualifications were examined.

They were a shade too polite, as it turned out. It would have been less embarrassing for them and Mr. Black if they had looked through his baggage, instead of letting his Ku Klux sheet turn up on the clothesline for all the world to see.

HALF AND HALF

When the convention of United Automobile Workers, sponsor last winter of the county's largest sit-down strike to date, endorsed that illegal method of paralyzing production and controlling the employer's property, those who have been frightened by this dangerous policy shivered a little more violently.
Among the shivers were many unionists who don't like the implication of sitdown strikes and think unionism can't afford to monkey with such a double-edged weapon.

But United Rubber Workers, who sometimes are credited with inventing the sitdown strike, voted almost unanimously last Wednesday in their convention against using it.

Leaders of U. R. W. have had a lot of trouble with sitdown strikes. So have the leaders of U. A. W.
It is a good sign that one of two great C. I. O. unions seems willing to admit that lawlessness is a poor way to inspire public confidence as well as a risky weapon to place in the hands of the men they are trying to organize.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, September 19

Sunday's horoscope holds promise of a most beneficial character, with all things flourishing and happy in both private and business affiliations. A unifying and stabilizing element predominates, forecasting definite progress and prosperity, possibly having main springs in secret sources or through some form of subtle manipulation or stratagem. Elders, friendship and personal popularity have places in this auspicious climax.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are assured a year in which there will be a definite stabilizing of the fortunes and position. Merit and industry will be recognized and call for proper emoluments. Secret influences are at work in this, or a shrewd and subtle management of opportunities presented from hidden regions. Popularity and prestige are enhanced and purely personal reactions are most happy and auspicious. Be wise with writings.

A child born on this day should be very versatile and efficient. It may lean toward novel, mysterious and curious adventures, possibly expressed in creative writing.

For Monday, September 20

Monday's astrological forecast, judging by the lunar transits, is for a day of difficulty and probable setbacks, due not only to stubborn obstacles but to tendency to rash, impetuous and quarrelsome conduct.

This may complicate affairs and prove hazardous to employment and general well-being and peace of mind. Circumspect and restrained behavior are enjoined.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year in which much depends upon their own wisdom, self-restraint and amiable manipulation of frustrating and difficult situations. Shun reckless and quarrelsome measures but use definitely constructive efforts in coping with tenacious obstacles. Tumult and temper would prove disastrous and aggravate the situation.

A child born on this day may be energetic, constructive, determined and persistent, but prone to gain its ends by rash, impetuous and tumultuous methods, which might prove its undoing.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—One of the missing gaps in city life for the jaspers from the whistle stops is the Sunday morning shoe shine. It was somehow eventful back yonder—an indulgence for only those who acquainted a certain standing—Plutocrats of polish, as it were.

There was a rite about the Sunday morning shine.
Ordinary folk could engage their shine boys at various hours of the week, but Sunday mornings were reserved for the elect. "I can't shine you right now," a shiner might say. "Major Fuller will be along any minute."

A dignity seemed to halo those who came out into town for the Sunday shine. Col. Jud Nash, for instance, editor of The Journal in his Prince Albert, round detachable cuffs, boiled shirt, anchor stud pin with dangling chain and black washable string bow tie.

Capt. Simeon Hudleston, of the river packet Gazelle. In his Stetson and high boots made especially in Pittsburgh. Also the hand-washing little Presbyterian parson, the Reverend Sykes, who as Miss Sophronia Tucker always said, was as "nervous as a rabbit's nose."

The Sunday morning shine crowd viewed the passing parade from the great high chairs—one run by Doc Black in front of Jim Robinson's barber shop on Court street, another on the Park Central corner in charge of Fleet White, the porter, and still another uptown in the shadow of the Hocking Valley depot in charge of Modock, whose last name no one seemed to know.

Gen. Ezra Stoutimere from his great rolling farm, Seven Oaks, across the Ohio in West Virginia, was among the Sunday shiners in seasonal weather. He drove his famous roans Tip and Tap, which always captured the first prize for carriage horses at the Mason County Fair. Gen. Stoutimere lived with his spinster daughter, Miss Titia—or Tish behind her back—and still had three of his father's old slaves on his place. Gen. Stoutimere was written up in the Sunday Cincinnati Enquirer once and was compared to Thackeray's aristocratic Major Pendennis. He hitched his team at the rack near the ferry float and came through town carrying his buggy whip.

Marcellus Q. Blake was also of the Sunday crowd.
A rich farmer from out near Purdy and one of the biggest stockholders in the Tri State Bank. Everybody called him "Mr. Marcy" and when the older crowd gave their annual ball at Aleshire's Hall he called the dances. It was said that on a still night you could hear his allenmande left, swing your lady and do-si-do clear up to Pt. Pleasant, four mil-away. "Mr. Marcy" was quite a gadabout and is reputed to have taken in six Sunday excursions in a row and week-ended at Atlantic City and Niagara Falls the same summer. After his Sunday shine he would go over to Miss Melissa Morris's and sit on her front porch awhile. There was talk they might marry, but they never did. Front street said he had to make up his mind about giving up chewing tobacco before Miss Melissa would accept him. He even went to Dwight, Ill., once to take a tobacco cure, but in three months was chewing again.

The shine boys—really middle aged—in our town were men of thrift and respectability. Fleet White, until rheumatism slowed him, was one of the best cooks on the river and could have his choice of jobs.
Modock had in his youth been involved in a razor-ing on Dog Ham and was sent to the Columbus pen for a few years, but he lived it down. Doc Black, Fleet White and Modock owned their own little frame homes, across the tracks.

Those high chair stands were models of neatness.
The blacking boxes flourishly brass bossed and the rags hung just so on the chair rungs. The shiners went to their task with vim, and their solo flourish with the whisk broom as the finale—ackety tack, ackety tack, tack—with a toss of the broom in the air to be caught by a hand in the back as they postured into a low bow is something for historians of changing manners. No one thought of tipping our shine boys. They did not expect it. In fact some of their business was done "on the cuff" and the patrons would settle up every few months.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

MIGRAINE

TO SUFFER from periodical headache is always an annoying and decidedly unpleasant experience. But to be the victim of "migraine," commonly

Dr. Copeland

called "sick headache," is indeed a serious matter. The number of sufferers from this condition is very great and the "cures" offered to overcome it are almost as numerous.
Migraine is one of the severe forms of headache. Some persons are particularly liable to it, very much more so than others. It would seem to be hereditary in its nature, because it is often found among several members of the same family.
It occurs among women about three times as often as men.
Change of life or "menopause," as the doctors call it, is often a contributing factor. In such cases it is probably the result of some glandular disturbance.

Related to Allergy

During recent years a great deal of publicity has been given to what is called allergy. This is the peculiar sensitivity of some persons to certain substances. It may be some food or something breathed into the lungs. Hives or another form of skin disturbance is at times a symptom of allergy.

Some authorities believe there is a definite relationship between migraine and allergy. They point out that in both afflictions there are certain periods when the victim is free from attacks. They also show that some sufferers from migraine headache have attacks after eating certain foods. The specialists now recommend careful investigation of the so-called "allergic" reactions of the patient.

Persons who are easily upset and subjected to excessive work, emotional or psychic strain, as well as other upsets, are those most apt to suffer from migraine. Of course, not all cases are the same, and for this reason it is difficult to explain the mechanism of these headaches.

Migraine, like other headaches, may be the result of some disturbance of the stomach or other digestive or internal organs. It should really be regarded as a symptom or sign of a disease, and not as a disease in itself. It is a danger signal that must not be ignored.

"THE CAPTIVE BRIDE"

by BARRETT WILLOUGHBY

CHAPTER XLIX

Denny had tried to put warmth and sincerity into her words urging Rio to stay, but her voice registered in her own mind as cold and unfamiliar. And that last sentence—some perverse thing inside her had laid caustic stress on it at the very moment she wished to express only kindness.

It was evident that Rio felt this because she turned a quick, penetrating look on Denny. Then she reached out and patted her hand. "Don't trouble about me, Denny. I went off the deep end for a moment, but I guess I'm not really so desperate. I must have a couple of thousand left—salted down in my hometown bank for just such an emergency. It's enough to pay my way for a while—if I do stay." She had regained command of herself, and as her eyes moved from Denny to Bourne, and back again, her face broke into a half-pleasant, half-bitter little grin. "The fortunes of war, my comrades!—I'll march up to my quarters now and formulate a new campaign."

She turned and walked into the hall to the stairway. There was something rather lonely and galling about her. Denny felt it; was touched by it; yet she could not help wondering if the new campaign included the capture of the master of River House. Though she was instantly ashamed of the thought, she was not quite convinced that she was wrong.

Bourne had watched Rio's exit with an unfathomable light in his eyes. When she began mounting the stairs, he turned to Harp, who had been a sympathetic spectator during the scene. "A fellow never can tell when thoroughbred blood will crop out in a range pony," he commented.

He was about to say something more when the ringing of the doorbell pealed through the house. Pine and Alderbrook were both out on the evening, and so he went to the front door himself.

Denny heard him say, "Hello, stranger. Glad to see you. Come in."

The answering voice brought Harp's head up with a jerk. "Page!" he ejaculated in a way that made the name sound like an oath. "The unforgotten nerve of that bird—barging in here as if he was a pal. Wonder what he's up to now?"

Page was coming down the hall toward the living room. One look at his slightly thick neck, his glossy black hair with its precise waves, his strangely round nostrils, reminded Denny of the time she saw Page and Willow Haskell in the cabin of the Taku Wind.

Revelation swept her. She wanted to get away before he came into the living room, but it was too late to do so on the impulse. He had seen her and was coming forward, smiling. There was an ebullient assurance in his stride; even in his manner of wearing his ultra-smart tweeds.

"I couldn't wait another minute to congratulate Rev. Mrs. Bourne!" he said, in a hearty, yet patronizing tone. "And, of course, to wish his charming bride every happiness!" He bent over her hand with exaggerated obsequiousness, and from under his dark brows sent her a long look that hinted at a mutual understanding, a sharing of things.

A Shanghai Boy Scout and a Good Deed

our lives. We've gone through high school and university together. What more sporting thing now to settle this than a game of poker—your estimate of my character, my psychology, against my estimate of yours. Have you got the nerve to back your judgment?"

Page averted his gaze from Bourne, and with an uneven laugh, tossed his cards to the table.

"Trust you to grow academic over poker, Rev. Poker might settle which of us is the better psychologist, but where talents are equal in that respect, it's the luck of the cards, after all, that would decide the winner. Anyway, I'm no psychologist. I'm a river skipper. I'll gamble with any man on my ability in that game. If you really want to settle this—" He broke off with an oblique glance at Bourne.

"Shoot! What's on your mind?"

"Well, how about a race? From your dock here in Tarnigan to the dock in Wrangell. Loser to sell out lock, stock and barrel to winner for—say fifty thousand. Our boats are evenly matched as to speed, so the result will really depend on which of us is the better and nerver whitewater navigator."

At the word "race" Harp had leaped half out of his chair and sat down again, protest written large on his hawk face.

Bourne drawled his answer. "Been putting in a new set of engines for this, Jack?"

"Not at all," hastily disclaimed the other. "The Taku Wind—hull, engines, propeller—is exactly as she's always been. If she isn't all bets are off. How about it? Are you game, or is all this sporting talk of yours a bluff?"

Again Bourne's glance moved to Denny. She shook her head imploringly, but she was sure now he was not actually seeing her. "It's a bet, Jack," he agreed, with sudden briskness. "We'll make the start at five o'clock in the morning."

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Sept. 18.—Pope Pius warned Austrian Catholics today that their religious rights, as well as those of German Catholics, are endangered by Nazi "anti-church policies."

His warning came in a general audience for Austrian, British, French and German pilgrims, attended also by several Americans including Robert L. Aske and Mrs. Aske of New York City, and Sig. Freiberg of Cincinnati, O.

"We specially welcome the Austrian faithful at this time which is so grave, even for Austria," said the pontiff.

He expressed hope that Austria always would remain Catholic, and "representative of the faith in central Europe where such example is needed."

Ex-Justice Silent On National Events

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 18.—Former U. S. Supreme Court Justice John Hessin Clarke, who once defended the constitutionality of President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal, was silent on national affairs on his 80th birthday today.

Justice Clarke was appointed by President Wilson and served on the court from 1916 to 1922. He was born in Lisbon, O., Sept. 18, 1857.

LISBON, Sept. 18.—Do you know why yesterday was outstanding?

If you don't know, probably you would have flunked an examination for citizenship conducted in the courthouse Friday. Constitution day is the right answer and 24 successful applicants for their final papers had it on the tip of their newly-Americanized tongues.

The question was one of a dozen for which correct answers were required. Others followed more or less traditional grooves and included a request for the name of the President; a description of the U. S. legislative bodies; the name of Ohio's governor and allied interrogations.

Class Commended

The class was commended by Examiner Carl Starliper for its intelligence. Mr. Starliper asked the questions while Common Pleas Judge W. F. Jones presided at the hearing. The former is associated with the department of immigration and naturalization, working out of the Pittsburgh office.

John Fickes of Wellsville gave the address of welcome to successful applicants following the examination. He congratulated the class on passing the quiz and told them their adopted country still needed active minds and expected from its naturalized citizens the same patriotism it demanded of the native born.

The class originally consisted of 31 members. Four of them failed to appear at the hearing and three of those present failed to meet the requirements. One of the latter was rejected because she had inadvertently re-married before her divorce was effective.

The hearing corrected an apparent inequality in the law when it restored Mrs. Amanda Smith of Wellsville to full citizenship. Born in Kentucky, Mrs. Smith lost her citizenship when she married a Turk. It was necessary for her to go through the entire naturalization procedure to re-establish her rights as a native of the country.

The New Citizens

The new citizens and the country of their nativity are: Salem—Joseph Belan, a Croat; Anna Louise Schach, Germany; Stanko Saulo, Yugoslavia; Elena Oana, Roumania; Anna Vild, Czechoslovakia; Maria Liebhart, Germany; Frederick W. Schach, Germany; Victoria Cosgarea, Roumania; Igina Miclarini, Italy.

East Liverpool—Fanny Reich, Great Britain; Edith M. Thorley, Great Britain; Nikola Brdar, Yugoslavia; John Bodinar, Great Britain.

Lisbon—Laura Arrowsmith, Great Britain; Mary Armeni, Italy.

Wellsville—Amanda Smith, Turkey; Alfonso Gerace, Italy; Giovanni Amato, Italy; Martino Le-russi, the Argentine Republic.

Leetonia—Francis J. Salvo, Italy; Rosario Sposato, Italy, and Francesco Mancuso, Italy.

Sallenville—Elizabeth Pfiffer, Germany.

Summitville—Maria Helen Pen-netti, Italy.

Johnson Attacks
Roosevelt Policies

TOLEDO, Sept. 18.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator, warned last night that President Roosevelt is "risking success of the New Deal by aspiration to unprecedented power."

The New Deal is good but it is going to have to be reoriented or it is going to fail, Johnson said in an address at the opening of Toledo's centennial celebration.

Other speakers were Edward F. McGrady, former assistant secretary of labor who resigned recently to join the Radio Corporation of America, and John D. Eiggers, Toledo glass manufacturer who accepted this week his appointment to conduct a federal unemployment census.

Thursday evening at 7:30, choir practice.

On Friday at 4 p. m. the Bible Study class for children between the ages of 10 and 12 will meet in the social rooms of the church.

Religious Instruction
"One of the most profitable usages of the Lutheran church is to gather the children between the ages of 12 and 14 and give them a systematic instruction in the doctrines of the Bible and the Christian way of life. We do not know these things by nature. Nor is the Sunday school able to impress them as firmly as they deserve to be impressed. Leaders, not only in the Lutheran church, but also in other churches, have long recognized this and have advocated additional time for religious instruction during the week. In our so-called confirmation classes the pastor takes the children at least two hours a week and seeks to lead them into living and conscious fellowship with the church and the church. Surely this is the most blessed thing that we can do for our children, and parents should be happy to send them. 'Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it.'"

These questions will all be answered in this sermon. There is a welcome for all at the church of the old-time religion.

Other services of the day are as follows:

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Lesson subject, "The Brazen Serpent." Numbers 21:5-9. The Sunday school crusade is on, visitors and new scholars are especially welcome. A worthwhile award is given to those attending for two consecutive Sundays. The whole Bible course is taught.

Worship with sermon by pastor at 10:45 a. m.

Science Society Services Sunday

"Matter" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read at the morning worship service of the Christian Science society tomorrow. The morning service is also broadcast over radio station WHK in Cleveland the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Sunday school for pupils up to the age of 20 years will be held at 9:30 a. m., while on Wednesday the regular midweek service will be held at the church at 8 p. m.

The Golden Text is: "Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God." (Leviticus 19:4.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin. . . . But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:28-33.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If we follow the command of our Master, 'Take no thought for your life,' we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure, or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dictate its terms, and form and control it with Truth." (p. 228.)

Services Tomorrow For Church of God

"The Burning Bush" is the subject of the sermon which will be preached by Pastor G. A. Taber at the morning worship service of the Church of God tomorrow.

"Watching Jesus" Sermon Topic At Trinity Lutheran

"Watching Jesus" is the subject of the sermon which will be preached by Rev. George D. Kelster at the morning worship service of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church tomorrow, the 17th Sunday after Trinity.

Complete services for the church and announcements are as follows:

Sunday school, 9:45; Deuteronomy 11:8-32; Charles W. Youtz, superintendent.

"The choices that one must make in life are important crossroads along the journey that one must take. This is just as true in the history of a nation. The choice that a nation makes to serve God or not to serve Him will decide the power and influence of that nation in the far future. The choice that a nation makes whether righteous or evil will be upheld will decide whether that country will climb the upper road or the lower road. The choices that individuals make have a powerful influence upon the work and strength of a nation. 'Choose this day whom you will serve.'"

Morning worship at 11; sermon by the pastor.

"Jesus was the object of close observation by both enemies and friends. Some eyed Him very closely that they might find some fault with Him and bring Him to trial and death. Some observed His every step that they might learn the powerful secret of His life and then obtain this blessing for themselves. The Christian life cannot be lived today without being in close touch with Jesus. No one can be a Christian without having faith in this Savior and His Christian program. The world has the dire need of watching the life and work of Jesus Christ as intently as possible."

Luther league at 6:30, topic, "Luther League Programs." Leader, Miss Evelyn Tullis.

Choir association meets Monday evening with Miss Bessie Mileusnic, Depot rd.

Holy Trinity brotherhood meets Wednesday evening at the church with the brotherhood of St. John's Lutheran church of East Liverpool as guest. Special speaker, I. F. Mellinger, Leetonia.

Rally day and harvest festival will be held Sunday, Sept. 26.

Praying services at the Washingtonville Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7:30.

Rev. Searles Talks On Free Thinkers

The message for the Sunday evening service by Rev. M. R. Searles at the Lighthouse tabernacle, W. State st., will be on the subject, "Free Thinkers."

Statement of the sermon—"There are so many different teachings on doctrines and scriptural subjects, until people are confused. Some have disregarded all teaching and are free thinkers, just believing what they want to about heaven, hell, Satan, God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit."

"Is this the best course to take? Will one be accepted by God on this basis? What is the sure foundation for all thinking on these things?"

These questions will all be answered in this sermon. There is a welcome for all at the church of the old-time religion.

Other services of the day are as follows:

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Lesson subject, "The Brazen Serpent." Numbers

RIP COLLINS, RETURN PEPS CUBS, PENNANT DRIVE

CHICAGO BEATS PHILLIES WITH COLLINS SPARK

Ripper Peps Up Cubs for Final Pennant Bid Against Giants

By SID FEDER

The Ripper's back, folks, the Cubs are looking up again. Question before the house now is whether Rip Collins isn't returning too late to do the Cubs much good in their National league pennant chase after the Giants.

Still 3½ games behind the New Yorkers, and with only 16 to go, the Cubs are rapidly running out of ball games. And the way those Terry Terriers are tearing, there doesn't seem to be any more hope for the Cubs than there was for Halle's assie (remember him?)

Collins' return to active duty yesterday, for the first time since he broke an ankle—and Charles G. Smith's heart—on August 10, was marked by the best general output on the part of the Cubs in days. Both offensively and defensively they were a far different collection in knocking off the Phillies, 10-2, than they were in dropping three out of four to the Bees just previously.

Although the big show was provided by Larry French, with a five-hitter, and Gabby Hartnett, with three hits and five runs batted in, Collins was on hand as the always-dangerous spark that the Cubs have been missing since he joined the hospital brigade.

Pending the three-game series with the Giants, beginning next Tuesday, and the final week of play, during which the Giants are faced with the doubleheader bogeyman on four straight days, it appears at this writing that the Cubs are almost certain to wind up no better than second.

The Giants won their fourth victory in five starts in the hinterlands yesterday and stayed well out in front. Harry Gumbert got away to shaky start, but tightened up and allowed only three hits through the last eight innings as the Giants topped the Reds, 6-3.

The Cardinals stretched their undefeated string to seven games—including six wins and a tie—and they did it at the expense of no less a terror than Boston's Bees. Lou Fette gave Johnny Mize the high hard one in the eighth and Johnny did just as expected with it, so the Gas House gang came through, 2-0.

Pittsburgh's pathetic Pirates had a big eight-run seventh inning and slaughtered the Dodgers, 10-4.

Rain washed out three of the American league games, leaving the spotlight to fall exclusively on Johnny Allen, who stretched his undefeated pitching winning streak to 12 straight with a four-hitter that gave the Indians a 4-1 decision over the Red Sox.

PLACENTIA TO CLOSE SEASON

Lakers Face Massillon Finefrocks In Last Game of Year

Lake Placentia will bring to a close its 1937 baseball season tomorrow, meeting the Massillon Finefrocks in a single game at the lake diamond, starting at 2:30 p. m.

The Lakers and Finefrocks have played two previous games this season, Placentia winning one tilt, 10 to 6, and Massillon taking the other, 13 to 3.

Massillon's ace spitball artist, Young, is scheduled to pitch against the Lakers. Johnny Eells or Willis Schepfer will probably oppose him.

Placentia will be after its 20th victory in the game, having won 19 games and lost six thus far.

Four Champions to Defend Titles in New York

One of the most ambitious boxing shows ever staged is scheduled for New York's Polo Grounds on Sept. 23 when Mike Jacobs has booked four champions to defend their titles. Barney Ross, welterweight ruler, meets Ceferino Garcia; Lou Ambers, lightweight champ, is matched with Pedro Montanez; Sixto Escobar will defend his bantamweight crown against Henry Jeffra, and Marcel Thil of France will attempt to bolster his claim to the middleweight title in meeting Fred Apostoli.

BIG TEN SQUADS HOLD SCRIMMAGE

Backfield At Northwestern Is Just About Set for Season

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Big Ten grid mentors, trying to distinguish wheat from chaff during the first week of the training season, shot their football threshing machines into big gear today.

Scrimmage in the form of game-length workouts was the day's program at several Western conference camps, with performances likely to determine starters in opening games a week or two weeks away.

Coach Lynn Waldorf sent his Northwestern Wildcats out for a long signal drill yesterday. He is fairly well set on his backfield of Fred Vanzo at quarterback, Don Heap and Bernie Jefferson at the half-back posts, and Sophomore Jack Ryan at fullback.

Another tough scrimmage was on tap at Minnesota, where Bernie Bierman is losing little time in getting ready for North Dakota State. Andy Uram, the Gophers' will-o-the-wisp halfback, was given another passing workout yesterday.

Wisconsin had a game-length scrimmage session on its program, while a practice game also faced the Purdue squad. Mal Elward planned to use one backfield of Cecil Isbell, Montague, Selby and Ippolito against a Boilemaker sophomore quartet of Mennis, Nesbitt, Welsor and Dewitte.

At Illinois, Coach Bob Zuppke sent his varsity against a freshman team primed with Notre Dame plays. Coach Harry Kipke of Michigan, where an intra-squad game was on tap, said performances would determine his starting lineup against Michigan State Oct. 2.

Chicago scrimmaged yesterday and Sophomore Letts gave a brilliant passing exhibition. Iowa also held a body-contact scrimmage, and more scrimmages was on today's program. Coach Francis Schmidt sent his Ohio State aspirants through a light drill, promising heavy work next week, while Indiana's Hoosiers also went through a light scrimmage session.

Jack McCarthy, senior, and Harry Stevenson, a sophomore, led the passers as Notre Dame drilled on aerial plays in preparation for today's scheduled all-around scrimmage.

Alliance Takes Two

ALLIANCE, Sept. 18.—Alliance High school's varsity football team trimmed Waynesburg, 31 to 0, in the first game of a double-header here last night, while the Aviator reserves decisively defeated Malvern in the second game of the twin grid bill.

Coaches, Opinions Differ On 3-Team Grid Contests

MECHANICSBURG, Sept. 18.—Coaches of three high school football teams divided two to one today in favor of continuing three-team gridiron skirmishes such as the one played last night between Mechanicsburg, Granville and Bradford.

Johnny Allen and "Bad News" Hale, Indians—Allen stopped Red Sox 4-1 with four hits, fanning five; Hale hit homer with two aboard to win game.

Harry Gumbert, Giants—Whipped Reds 6-3 with five hits. Johnny Mize and St. Johnson. Cardinals—Mize's two-run homer beat Bees 2-0; Johnson pitched six-hit shutout.

Pep Young, Pirates—Hit two singles, drove in two runs and scored two in 10-4 win over Dodgers.

The dissenting vote was cast by Bob McConnell, Granville coach, who complained that his men became stiff waiting between games.

Granville won the three-way contest, decided on a total-point basis, by a score of 21 to Bradford's 13 to Mechanicsburg's nothing.

Granville outscored Mechanicsburg 14 to 0 in two periods, Bradford beat Mechanicsburg 7 to 0 in two best Mechanicsburg came back to nose out Bradford 7 to 6 in the same manner.

CANTON TAKES LEAGUE TITLE

Gains Playoff Championship In Mid-Atlantic Baseball Loop

AKRON, Sept. 18.—Canton's Terriers were the Mid-Atlantic league's championship today in undisputed fashion today after coming out on top in the playoff as well as the season's standings.

The Terriers won the fifth and final game of the post-season play-off with the Akron Yankees here last night, 10 to 5. Each had won two games previously this week.

The Canton players split $1,400 in prize money, half for their playoff victory and half for the playoff title. The Canton club also received the governor's cup.

Some 6,000 chilled fans saw the Terriers rap out 15 hits off four Akron pitchers in the final game. Jim Stevens, a right-hander, held the Yanks to six hits.

Four Canton errors and three singles gave Akron four of their five runs in the eighth inning. The other was a home run by Jack Graham in the second.

The Terriers kept pounding steadily at Eddie Amend, who started on the mound, relieved in the second by Don Henderson, followed by Earl Schamp in the fifth and Charlie Huisking in the eighth.

Joe Paiment, who played with Dayton during the season, was called in to play second base for Canton. Charlie Gillespie, who played every game this season except the last, was laid up with a twisted ankle.

SNEAD LEADING FIELD IN OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

Slammin' Sam Tops List Of 10 Leaders In Western Meet

By REX V. HESS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18.—Nine golfers were prepared today to give Sam Snead, the long-clout West Virginian, an argument for the 1937 Western Open golf championship at Canterbury Country club.

The rest of the large field which battled cold cross winds through the first 18-hole test yesterday was ready to struggle for little more than the honor of being among the select list of 64 shotmakers permitted to use the course Sunday while the championship is being decided.

The first 64—and ties—will be all that's left tonight of the nearly 150 hopefuls who teed off with clear cards and consciences Friday. And they'll need, first day scores indicated, a 3-hole aggregate of near 150 to be among those present Sunday.

But this story of the Western Open of 1937, thus far, is the story of "Slammin' Sam" Snead and his close competitors, not of the also-rans.

"Slammin' Sam" slapped par for four strokes yesterday as he turned in a card of 68 against Canterbury and the wind. Just two other golfers were able to whip par in the opening test, Jimmy Thomson of Houston, Tex., Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, defending champion.

Harry Cooper, the only other former Western Open champion in the lists, and winner last week of the Canadian Open, came in with a 73, just five strokes off the pace set by Snead.

Snead, who has collected around $7,500 in his first season in big-time play, was after his first major championship. The only big tournament title he had to his credit before the Western Open was the St. Paul Open championship.

Some of the "experts" were predicting today that Snead would slip from his leadership, but the gallery made it clear that it had to be convinced. Snead made his hot 68 yesterday in the morning when the wind was at its worst, and few of the scores close to him were brought in before the wind had died down considerably in the afternoon.

Salem Riders Face Alliance Tomorrow

Winner over Pittsburgh North Hills last week, the Salem Polo club seeks another victory tomorrow afternoon when it meets the Alliance Polo club for the second time of the season at the State Armory field in Alliance.

Captain Jim Pidgeon, Ray Moff, Brooke (Pete) Votaw and Owen Lewis will be riding for Salem in the contest. The Alliance lineup will include three Salem poloists, Willie Smith, Chet Gibbons and Tony Sheen.

The Salem club will be at home one week from tomorrow for a contest with Zellenenore.

Struthers Loses

STRUTHERS, Sept. 18.—Dedication ceremonies for a new Struthers High school athletic stadium were marred last night by a 13 to 6 defeat Coach Mike Koma's Struthers grid team absorbed at the hands of Youngstown Ursuline.

WASHINGTON—Farm laborers are young compared with other occupational groups, according to a recent survey in 11 states by the Department of Agriculture. More than one-third of the farm laborers included in the survey were between 20 and 29 years old and two-thirds were under 40.

POTTERS SPANK LISBON ELEVEN

East Liverpool Records 18-0 Victory In First Game

EAST LIVERPOOL, Sept. 18.—Opening their 1937 football campaign, East Liverpool High school's Potters spanked Lisbon, 18 to 0, before a first-game crowd of 7,000 at Patterson stadium here last night.

Coach Joe Morbito used four teams in the skirmish, relying on the first and second string squads for most of the action.

Lisbon made its most consistent gains through East Liverpool tackles but couldn't locate punch enough to get within scoring distance.

Sophomore Fullback Russell Dray made two of the Potter touchdowns, intercepting a pass to score one in the first period and bucking over center from the three-yard line to score another in the second quarter.

Marvin Kinsey, the Potters' triple-threat back, who was the game's biggest ground gainer, scored the third touchdown on a 10-yard dash around Lisbon's left end.

PROS READY TO SUPPLY ACTION

Play-for-Pay Gridders Off To Good Start In 1937 Season

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The play-for-pay gridders, having decided some seasons ago that the cash customers want action for their money, are off to a flying start toward filling that order in another professional football league campaign.

Five games have been played and there were no ties. All packed plenty of action, with a barrage of forward passes indicating that the pro game again will be of the wide-open variety, with few tilts likely to put fans asleep.

Pittsburgh smothered Philadelphia under a barrage of aerials in the season's opener, with the veteran Johnny Blood, Pirates' new coach, taking one 44-yard overhead for a touchdown. A 60-yard pass from Fred Nori to Jeff Barreto gave Brooklyn a win over Philadelphia while in last Thursday night's Washington victory over New York, the brilliant Sammy Baugh completed 11 of 16 passing attempts.

The Cleveland-Philadelphia game, scheduled for last night at Philadelphia, was postponed to next Tuesday night. Tomorrow's schedule: Chicago Bears at Green Bay; Chicago Cardinals at Detroit, and Pittsburgh at Brooklyn.

BOYS OF TODAY REVISE ATTITUDE; SPURN EASY MONEY IDEA

(By United Press)

CHICAGO—The easy dream of every school boy that he'll be president, or at least a millionaire, has been replaced, as a result of the depression, by the attitude that jobs are hard to get and money difficult to earn.

Helen K. McCormack, of the University of Chicago school of business, announced that 40 per cent of 1,980 students surveyed feared they would be unable to get jobs of any kind; 81 per cent expected to work hard for all the money they ever get, and 84 per cent rejected completely the idea that money is easy to earn.

Miss McCormack, who made the survey among Kansas City school children of high, medium and low income groups, said the attitude that money was hard to earn was common to all groups. More students in the high income group, than in the low, feared they would be unable to get jobs of any kind. More boys than girls entertained this fear.

Mental Confusion Shown

"The fact that 57 per cent of the students rejected the idea that times are always hard for most people," Miss McCormack pointed out, "indicates that this skepticism and fear are due to the children having lived through a severe economic depression. Thirty-two per cent thought times were always hard and 10 per cent said they did not know."

Although 85.2 per cent believed "every good citizen should be self-supporting," only 6.5 per cent said they would rather have money than anything else in life.

More than 20 per cent believed in "taking investment risks" and 5.7 per cent believed in buying their money to keep it safe.

Students from the high income group knew more about money than students from the other two groups, with boys exceeding girls in this knowledge. Those who earned, or received allowances, surpassed the others in knowledge of money problems.

Big Majority for Budget

Ninety-two per cent believed a budget was an aid to wise spending and 91.5 per cent "liked to compare values and prices." Thirteen per cent subscribed to the "spend to get to tomorrow you die" theory. More than 95 per cent believed in regular saving.

Students from the low income group indorsed the idea of giving to church or charity in proportion to expenditures for other things. More than 77 per cent of all students approved of giving to charities while 20 per cent believed in "giving nothing; at all if it were possible only to give a little."

In a test of knowledge about money 91.1 per cent of the students were able to respond correctly to the statement that "price is the value of an article expressed in terms of money." Only 25 per cent knew what real income is and 28 per cent knew whether or not "the number of greenbacks authorized has remained unchanged for many years."

Of the whole, Miss McCormack found pupils who did not spend all their earnings or allowances made better scores in the knowledge tests.

Theater Attractions

George Raft, Olympe Bradna, Frances Dee and Gary Cooper, featured in "Souls at Sea", which shows at the State Sunday through Tuesday.

"Souls at Sea", starring Gary Cooper and George Raft, opens the week's billing at the State theater, showing three days, starting Sunday.

The story is based on a famous Philadelphia trial in 1842. Frances Dee and Olympe Bradna have the leading feminine roles. Others in the cast are Porter Hall, Gilbert Emery, Henry Wilcoxon, Lina Basquette, Harry Carey, Robert Cummings, Virginia Weider and Joseph Schildkraut.

Destroyer of Lives
Stark necessity and his ardent fervor as an abolitionist during the years of the great slave traffic in the 1840's drives a seafarer to take the role of ruthless destroyer of human lives.

Gary Cooper is the seaman who takes command during an appalling tragedy at sea and, playing the role of "God," makes the choice of those human beings who are to be sacrificed.

His trial for manslaughter is based on the trial of the captain of the famous packet "William Brown," a trial which caused controversy to burn high on two continents when it took place in Philadelphia in 1842. Frances Dee, as the woman Gary loves and almost loses through his ruthless deed, and George Raft are in the supporting cast.

The Wednesday-only feature at the State will be "Dance, Charlie, Dance," featuring Stuart Erwin, Jean Muir, Glenda Farrell and Allen Jenkins. A small-town boy with a modest fortune, Erwin is induced to put it into a phony Broadway show by two bogus producers who plan to clean up on Smith Ballew, cowboy singer, is teamed with Heather Angel in Harold Bell Wright's western tale, "Western Gold." The film will be seen Friday and Saturday at the Grand.

Concluding tonight are: Bobby Breen's "Make a Wish" at the State; and "Windjammer", with George O'Brien and Constance Worth, at the Grand.

WARS DOUBLING SCRAP EXPORTS

Japan Accounts For Half Of Shipments Since First of Year

Japan began raiding the junkyards of the world to obtain supplies of iron and steel to equip the Japanese war machine. Since that time the annual flow of scrap iron and steel to Japan has averaged better than 1,000,000 tons.

This has been a cause for protest on the part of many who consider it vital that some litigation be put on the amount of scrap imported by a nation at war. They maintain that it is a violation of the neutrality act as much as would be the purchase of guns and bullets from this country to allow unlimited importation of scrap in such a manner as has been the case with Japan in the past four years.

Nye Protests Situation

Something of an index of the extent to which the nations of the world are involved in the rearmament race is given by the statistics for scrap importations by the various powers. While Japan tops the list by a considerable margin. Great Britain ranks second with 323,000 tons imported during the first six months of this year.

Senator Gerald P. Nye, chairman of the senate munitions committee which drafted the neutrality act, has strongly protested the unlimited shipment of scrap from United States. Several bills regulating such exports are scheduled to be introduced at the next session of congress, but the issue is a complicated one, and a problem bound up with the larger question of general embargoes and neutrality policies.

F. D. R. TO PUSH COURT BATTLE

Speaks In Washington at Constitution Day Observance

crisis in American affairs which demands action now—a crisis particularly dangerous because its external and internal difficulties reinforce each other.

Seeks Results

Not once did the President mention his proposal for "rejuvenation" of the judiciary except in the past tense. He left the inference that however he obtained his objectives "under the Constitution" he would be satisfied.

But the chief executive, in plain words, served notice that if the objectives were blocked he was ready to fight.

He characterized the Constitution as a "layman's document, not a lawyer's contract" in the drafting of which the farmers "used broad and general language capable of meeting evolution and change."

"You will find no justification," he said, "in any of the language of the Constitution for delay in the reforms which the mass of the American people now demand."

"Yet nearly every attempt to meet those demands for social and economic betterment has been jeopardized or actually forbidden by those who have sought to read into the Constitution language which the farmers refused to write into the Constitution."

Chides Lawyers

Chiding lawyers for disagreements over the meaning of the Constitution, and the supreme court for divided opinions, the President said the "odd man" on the court had often decided vital issues.

In conclusion, Mr. Roosevelt asked those who have faith in the Constitution's capacity to "work out the problems of democracy" to "justify that faith by making it work now rather than 20 long years from now."

The President made no mention of the current controversy over alleged Ku Klux Klan membership by his only nominee to the supreme court, Associate Justice Black.

Those in the front of the crowd, however, noted Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama was seated conspicuously on the speakers' platform with his wife, Senator Dixie Bibb Graves.

Graves recently acknowledged one-time membership in the Klan, but denied knowledge of published reports that Black was initiated at the same time.

Meanwhile, some Washington observers held the view that the unsettled controversy over the Black case made it unlikely that President Roosevelt would call a special session of congress in the fall. There still was no hint from the White House, however, of the President's plans in this direction.

Await Special Session

Some informed persons suggested the President's journey to the coast might show whether there was much sentiment for a special session to enact a crop control program.

The President will leave tonight for Hyde Park, N. Y., and will start his western trip from there next Wednesday. Marvin H. McIntyre, one of his secretaries, said no set speeches have been arranged, but there probably will be "ceremonies" at some stops.

Mr. Roosevelt will inspect several government projects, such as the Bonneville, Fort Peck and Grand Coulee dams, Bremerton navy yard, and Yellowstone National park. At Seattle he and Mrs. Roosevelt will visit their daughter, Mrs. John Boettger.

The party probably will return to the capital Oct. 7 or 8, although the detailed itinerary has not been completed.
